Dear Dr. Zilinskas,

Please allow me to express my deepest gratitude for your attendance the 12th International Electronic Communications Regulators Conference organized by the Information and Communication Technologies Authority (ICTA) of the Republic of Turkey in Ankara on 9-10 May 2018 with the theme of “Technologies Shaping Social Life: Opportunities and Threats”.

The primary goal of the conference was to bring together the high level representatives as well as colleagues and partners from electronic communications sector in an open dialogue to discuss the issues related to technologies shaping our social lives and to exchange views on the possible strategies as to how we can become aware and more engaged in the opportunities and the threats that we encounter through the use of these technologies.

I believe that our distinguished speakers’ in-depth insight and remarkable contributions helped to make this event a great success. I hope that you found the conference fruitful and enjoyed your stay in Ankara.
